2019 Civil Rights Week

We appreciate the support of our sponsors, without whom this week's celebration would not be possible. The 28th Annual Civil Rights Breakfast is an opportunity for activists, thought leaders, and community partners from Baltimore and beyond to come together, build relationships, and discuss the current state of civil rights. This year City Council President, Brandon M. Scott, will be leading a conversation with Rev. Jesse Jackson. Culminating the week with the Civil Rights Black-Tie Gala at the Baltimore Convention Center, which will recognize individuals for their achievements and support of Civil Rights.

This year's theme, "B. I. A. S.: Bringing Inherent Assumptions to the Surface" will be explored over seven days (September 27, 2019 – October 5, 2019) through a series of activities and events.
